

Journal of Engineering Education

Widely read. Highly cited.

Special Opportunity

The Journal of Engineering Education (JEE) is a peer-reviewed international journal published quarterly by the American Society for Engineering Education. It serves as an archival record of scholarly research in engineering education and publishes the latest evidence-based insights and innovations for the benefit of engineering educators, academic administrators, and others interested in the scholarly advancement of engineering education.

The Latin American and Caribbean Consortium of Engineering Institutions (LACCEI) and the American Society for Engineering Education (ASEE) signed a partnership in June 2008 to offer JEE as benefit to individuals who are members of LACCEI institutions. Under this agreement, individuals who are members of LACCEI institutions may subscribe for USD 25.00 per year and institutions (libraries) may subscribe for USD 160.00 per year.

Those interested in subscribing to JEE should either complete this form and return it to LACCEI at the address at the bottom of the form or send an e-mail containing the same information to JEE@LACCEI.org.
