ARGENTINA 2020

The International conference LACCEI, The OAS Summit of Engineering for the Americas, convene every year professors, researchers, university manager, executives, and engineering companies, to share experiences, advances, trends and good practices in the engineering world.

In this opportunity the motto “Engineering, Integration, and Alliances for a Sustainable Development”, Hemispheric Cooperation for Competitiveness and Prosperity on a Knowledge-Based Economy, call in the city of Buenos Aires to meditate about the Engineering role in the social commitment for the achievement of the Sustainable Development Goals (ODS).

MATILDA 2 ANNOUNCEMENT

In the second volume of Matilda and women in engineering in Latin America, we are calling for women whose professional work in engineering have been done in the industry and in social action. This is a good opportunity to give visibility to the new graduates of our universities that perform successfully in the world of industry or in projects of strong social content.
