

MATILDA III CALL FOR PAPERS

After 2 books by Matilda and Women in Engineering in Latin America, and the constitution of the Latin American Open Chair Matilda and Women in Engineering (CAL Matilda), we invited authors to be part of the third Matilda book.

These books have been published by CONFEDI and LACCEI and are in digital format for free and free distribution. Now it is CAL Matilda itself that takes the initiative for publishing, as a way to contribute to the visibility and appreciation of women in the field of engineering, and to promote girls and adolescents in the study of engineering. Also, encourage engineering students in their careers and, more ambitiously, contribute to equal rights, opportunities and spaces for men and women in the engineering world.

We are calling on authors to make their contributions on the stories of Women in Engineering, focusing on the following aspects:

- Vocations
- Education
- Professional exercise
- Mentoring

We look forward to your article!

RECOGNITION TO THE PILLARS OF ENTREPRENEURSHIP 2020

If we have been able to see far, it is because we stand on the shoulders of giants

“CONGRATULATIONS! We are pleased to inform you that the Multisectoral Alliance has chosen him as one of the Pillars of Entrepreneurship in Puerto Rico whose great contribution we want to recognize in 2020.

The Pillars of Entrepreneurship program was established in 2014 to recognize those individuals and organizations that, due to their achievements, have made the development of the entrepreneurial culture and the strengthening of the business sector in Puerto Rico one of their life missions. Through the Pillars of Entrepreneurship program, our Alliance identifies those individuals who started the business development movement and/or have continued to promote it as an essential component for the country's development.

The Pillars of Entrepreneurship have guided us so far and we are counting on you to continue advising and promoting the quest to expand and increase the impact of the ecosystem and the business sector”

Multisectoral Alliance, ECHAR PA'LANTE
